We understand that the Ceylon government have sent an agent here for the purpose of engaging coolies on the same principles as prevail in West India houses. We have not heard the name of the agent, which is required, nor the running start of the Cingalese workmen, but we learn that the agent has gone to carry out the arrangements required to complete.

From all we can learn, Governor Robinson's scheme is in a good way. Mr. Robinson of the Hongkong Mint, and Major Robinson have set their wits to work.

the scheme to good account; so some of the heavy expenses, which their incurred in carrying out their ideas are very appreciable. Their ideas are very noble, but their lack of experience in the way it may naturally be supposed that attempts must result in ludicrous failure.

The only object which they named at, and the only result, could possibly have attained, had been the extermination of the pest which they contemned by the thin mint shall be ready.

Extracts from "The Irish in America."

The American people have been told that the Irish are a race of degenerates, that they are a source of trouble to the country, and that they are a danger to the Republic. This is a gross misstatement of the facts. The Irish in America are a brave, hard-working, and patriotic people. They have made great contributions to the country in every field of endeavor. They are a source of pride and honor to the Republic. The Irish in America are a brave, hard-working, and patriotic people. They have made great contributions to the country in every field of endeavor. They are a source of pride and honor to the Republic.

Gen. Meagher on "The Irish in America."

Gen. Meagher, a prominent Irish-American leader, has written a book titled "The Irish in America." In this book, he discusses the history and contributions of the Irish people in America. He argues that the Irish are a brave, hard-working, and patriotic people who have made great contributions to the country. He also discusses the challenges that the Irish have faced in America and the ways in which they have overcome them.

Dear Friend on the State of Rome.

Dear Friend, I have just received your letter regarding the state of Rome. I am glad to hear that you are interested in the city and its history. Rome is a city of great beauty and historical significance. It has been the center of power and culture for centuries. I hope that you will have a chance to visit Rome and see it all for yourself.

The United States Navy.

The United States Navy is one of the most powerful navies in the world. It has a long history and a rich tradition. The Navy is responsible for the defense of the United States and its interests around the world. It has a fleet of ships and submarines that are capable of operating in all parts of the world.
